Who in district government is most likely to influence GASB 77 disclosure?

Chief Financial Officer Jeffrey DeWitt
The Office of the Chief Financial Officer was established by an Act of Congress in 1995. The CFO oversees both the District’s economic development activities and its financial reporting.

Which district office is responsible for completing the CAFR?
D.C.’s Chief Financial Officer completes the District’s CAFR.

When was most recent CAFR filed?
The District of Columbia’s fiscal year ends on September 30th. Its most recent CAFR was published on January 25, 2017.

Based on what we know about past filing behavior, when will GASB 77 appearing in the District of Columbia?
- District government: late-January 2018
- District schools: schools are an agency of municipal government and have no independent financial reporting.

Report Updated: June 20, 2017

For more information on GASB 77, visit: http://www.goodjobsfirst.org/gasb